TECHNOLOGY WINS FENCING.

Harvard and Columbia Tie for Second Place.

Technology defeated Columbia and Harvard in the Triangular Fencing Meet at the Gym, last Tuesday evening, winning eleven bouts. Columbia and Harvard tied for second place, each winning eight bouts. There were three hundred and fifty people present.

Technology took the lead from the start, having won ten bouts before either of the other teams succeeded in winning five. After the withdrawal of Gatewood, owing to a wound in his right hand, Columbia and Harvard gained on Technology so rapidly that the result was in doubt until Henry's victory over F. Lage put Technology in a safe position.

The most exciting bout was that between Kherline of Columbia and J. Lage of Tech. The two men were required to fight two extra bouts before the judges made a decision. The bout between the Lage brothers proved somewhat of a disappointment as Jorge easily won.

The plan of running two bouts at a time proved a success and shortened the time of the meet considerably. Summary:

Prof. Sedgwick Presides at Yale Dinner.

At the annual dinner of the Yale Alumni Association of Boston and vicinity on Tuesday evening, Professor Sedgwick presided and Professor Richards representing the Institute, spoke of the work of the Summer School of Mining which was organized for Yale, Technology, Harvard and Columbia by the efforts of Mr. John Hayes Hammond, the eminent Mining engineer (Yale '76 S.). The Sheffield Scientific School of Yale received special attention at the dinner, doubtless owing to the fact that Professor Sedgwick, the retiring president, is a graduate of that school. Others present were Professor Niles, Professor Porter, Professor Derr (as a guest) and several graduate students at the Institute.

THE HYDE PARK SITE.

Technology Fund Committee Acts to Secure Land for Possible Location.

The Technology Fund Committee has recently secured the purchase of the large tract of land in Hyde Park which has for some time been considered a very desirable site for the future location of the Institute. The committee has taken this action independently of the Alumni and of the Institute and has made the move simply as a matter of insurance.

At the time when the Technology Fund Committee was organized it was evident to the committee that its success in raising funds would probably depend largely on the successful solving of the question of location, so the committee immediately began to consider that matter. Several possible sites had to be dropped from consideration owing to real estate developments, so that the committee found that the only suitable and practicable site remaining was the large tract of land on the border of Hyde Park and Boston, consisting, in part, of the Sumner estate, which contains more than one hundred acres.

The Fund Committee were informed that this estate was about to be sold and that the opportunity of securing it as a site for the Institute would pass permanently. Upon learning this fact the committee at once took steps to secure its purchase by Mr. Eugene N. Foss, who is a very devoted friend of the Institute.

The Alumni and the authorities of Technology are in no way involved in this purchase, the Fund Committee having taken this action as a matter of insurance. When the question of location, however, comes up for consideration, if the Institute decides that it is advisable to utilize this particular site, it will have the chance of securing it upon terms most advantageous to Technology.

The necessity for the Institute to have much more commodious quarters is a recognized fact, but whether this may be best obtained by putting up more and higher buildings on its present land buildings, or by removing to a less crowded part of the city has not yet been fully decided. The

Mr. J. C. Brooks, 1908, has been elected to the Business Staff of THE TECH.

All members of THE TECH Board are requested to meet in 30 Rogers, this evening, at 7.30.

Cheering.

Why should not Tech have as well organized cheering as the colleges with whom she competes in Track and other athletics? It is difficult to find an answer to this question; but to the question, why does not Tech have good cheering, there are at least two causes to be mentioned in reply, both of which may be overcome. In the first place, notwithstanding the discussion and rediscussion of the subject of a Tech yell, the fact remains that we have no genuine college yell. We have a substitute, but it lacks snap, and is incapable of enthusiastic rendering. In the second place we lack an organized system of cheer leading with well qualified men in charge.

Any movement to obtain a new yell and to organize the cheer leading, should come through the Institute Committee. In order that results may be ripe for use in the Spring Meets, now is the time for action.

future location of the Institute has been for some time an open question, so much so that the last two buildings erected by the corporation have been temporary in character, and the Walker memorial is still unbuilt; although the money for that building was long ago subscribed. The entire question, of course, is affected by the fact that the legality of the permission given the Institute by the State Legislature to build over the entire area of its land on Boylston street, or to sell the same, is still before the courts, and also by the fact that the outcome of the negotiations with Harvard University is still more or less in doubt.

Hockey.

The Hockey game that was to have been played on Washington's Birthday at the Braeburn Country Club was canceled on account of the poor condition of the ice. The season is to be ended by a series of games for the class championships. The first game of the series is to be played this afternoon at 4.15 at the Tech Rink. The remaining games will be played Saturday afternoon, beginning at 2, and on Monday afternoon beginning at 4.

At a meeting of this year's team, Addison Miller, '07, was elected captain for the 1905-06 season.
